FORTIETH YEAR No. 30

WHITE TO SPEAK ON MONDAY, 3

Candidate From South Mississippi Will Address Voters of Hancock at Courthouse.

Eugene Fly, campaign manager for Hugh White, candidate for governor of Mississippi, announces Mr. White will speak to the voters of Hancock county at the courthouse in Bay St. Louis on Monday of next week, August 2, at 10:30 o'clock, and to which ladies and gentlemen are invited to hear. Mr. White has been attracting crowd's all over the State.

Mr. White is essentially a business man, one who has proven his executive ability and his success, and since running the State is perhaps the biggest business in the State it stands to reason that it is essential to elect one who is thoroughly a business man.

He comes to Hancock county to discuss issues, not men; to talk of the vital need of State in order that it may be lifted out of the slough of despond in which it has fallen; to raise Mississippi's proud head again in order that it may resume its place in the galaxy of States, and in order that its people may again be restored to plane and level wherein they may vie with the citizens of other commonwealths of the country.

It will be interesting and refreshing to hear Mr. White. He is no stranger. He has visited here frequently and is well acquainted and will again shake hands with the many friends and acquaintances and in turn will add to his list of such many new names.

LOCAL HOSPITAL IS OF VALUE AND GENERAL ASSISTANCE TO MANY

King's Daughters Bay Hospital Open To All Who May Come and Seek Treatment

The Bay King's Daughters Emergency Hospital daily proves its worth and value and is a blessing to the many unfortunates who are ill and victims of accidents, and blessed are those who provided and maintain this institution of mercy and help.

Mrs. W. H. Harper, of Spartanburg, S. C., tourist, applied at the hospital during the week for an injured hand, and was sent her way rejoicing.

Flora May Cameron, 2 1/2 months baby from Kilm, was given medical treatment Tuesday night.

Toulme Lauterbach of New Orleans, cut by a broken windshield, was received Sunday night and twenty-eight stitches was taken in one hand. After the wounds were dressed and he was treated, he continued on his way.

Thursday night Frank Barbech, of New Orleans was given medical treatment, on Friday morning of last week Mrs. W. L. Cuevas, of Standard, applied at the hospital for medical treatment.

Mrs. Katie McArthur cut her right hand on a tin can Wednesday and Dr. D. H. Ward rendered the proper assistance as he also did in the case of Amelie Asher who cut his hand severely on the blade of a grass mower. Louis Aubrey, suffering with an infected foot, was also given attention by Dr. Ward.

Boys' Camp To Open at Waveland This Evening, July 31

A Boys' Camp given under the auspices of the Evangelical churches of New Orleans will be opened at the Dielmann Evangelical Center of Waveland, Friday evening, July 31, for a ten day period. The Rev. Paul R. Stock of New Orleans is the director, and Mrs. Stock the camp mother. The following ministers will also assist with the instruction of the boys: the Rev. Fred Mehrrens, Rev. Raymond Buck and Rev. J. S. Gohde, all of New Orleans.

Picayune Will Extend Strawberry Planting For Next Season

Four thousand crates of strawberries were shipped from Picayune during the season just ended, bringing about $9,000. So successful was the raising of berries this year there is much activity in increasing the plantings. Approximately seven million strawberry plants will be needed to plant the acreage around Picayune which will be grown next season. The Picayune Agricultural Extension Commission is undertaking to contract with professional plant growers for this large number of plants.

POST OFFICE TO BE CLOSED HALF SATURDAY EVERY WEEK

Business Community Willing, Local Office To Line Up With Postoffice Over Country.

Post Master H. C. Glover, after consulting the wishes of the local business community, announces that beginning this Saturday, August 1, the Bay St. Louis postoffice will remain open on Saturdays from 8 o'clock A. M. to 1 P. M., thus giving employees of the office a half holiday Saturday.

This is in line with all other towns and cities over the country, wherever a majority of the business men and women of the community are willing. This Post Master Glover first procured. It is pointed out that on Saturday afternoon there is practically no business transacted at the postoffice.

However, the closing of the Bay St. Louis postoffice Saturday afternoon will in no way interfere with the receiving and dispatching of mail. The only inconvenience possible and that is very small, is the purchase of stamps. There may be had during the morning hours or possibly where a private individual may wish a stamp or two this may be procured at any of the local drug stores.

Post Master Glover interviewed a majority of the business people of the community before deciding on taking the half holiday for the employees and the response in every instance was in the affirmative.

The Echo wishes every employee in the city, if possible, could be given the half Saturday holiday, but, of course, this is impossible, where most stores and other trading places have their best days on Saturdays.

BAY SCOUT TROOP OFF TO CAMP

Will Leave Monday Morning for Camp Slidell, La., For Two-Weeks' Stay

Monday morning, August 3rd, will witness a motley of happy boys on their way from Bay St. Louis to Camp Salmen, near Slidell, La.

Through the generosity of some gentlemen of this community, and the American Legion Auxiliary of the Clement R. Bontemps Post No. 139, it has been made possible to send the entire personnel of Boy Scout Troop No. 208 for a two-weeks' vacation in the second finest Boy Scout Camp in the United States.

Camp Salmen is situated in the piney woods on the beautiful Bayou Liberty, three and a half miles from Slidell. The camp site is perfectly drained, with drinking water the purest that can be had, coming from three deep artesian wells. Safety is the by-word there. Every precaution is taken to insure complete protection to the boys while in swimming or in camp. Expert medical attention is always on hand.

Troop No. 208, although only a few months old, has, through the able leadership of Scoutmaster Dr. Ed. F. Anderson and his assistant, Ed. I. Jones, become the most outstanding troop on the Gulf Coast, having a rating of 100 per cent. This is an enviable record, considering that there are five other troops, including Gulfport and Biloxi.

It is hoped that in the near future the troop will be settled in a permanent home where their craft-work and dens can be developed.

Successful Card Party Last Friday For Benefit Church Fund

Success crowned every effort of the ladies who gave a card party at the Bay-Waveland Yacht Clubhouse last Friday afternoon for the benefit of the debt fund church of Our Lady of the Gulf, and given in conjunction with the two-day fair to be given this Saturday and Sunday on St. Stanislaus College lawn.

Edw. F. Fahey, chairlady, assisted by Mrs. J. W. Curry, gave the card party at which there were some thirty-odd tables of bridge. The affair was a success both socially and financially, many out-of-town friends, particularly from along the Coast attended.

The amount realized net was $124.86, a handsome amount, indeed, realized from an afternoon card party, and which money will go to the whole net receipts of the church benefit. The ladies are receiving congratulations of many on their success and the thanks and appreciation of the management goes to those who assisted and patronized the affair to the extent that made it such a success.

C. OF C. MEETING

Owing to the elections Tuesday, the regular monthly meeting of Bay St. Louis Chamber of Commerce will not be held on Tuesday night of next week, as scheduled, but has been postponed to the following night—Wednesday. Members are respectfully urged to attend.

DENVER VISITOR SPEAKS

Bay Rotary Club Hears Distinguished Young Priest From The West—Recently Returned From Europe

Bay St. Louis Rotary Club is especially fortunate in the galaxy of speakers it has presented from week to week, many of thought and ability who favor the club with their presence and give either a message or discuss matters of constructive interest. Men and women as well who have appeared before the club and given its members either the benefit of their experiences, travels or observations.

Wednesday of this week was no exception. Rev. Father R. J. Kirschenheuter, C. M., of St. Thomas Seminary, Denver, Colorado, by invitation addressed the club and at the conclusion of his remarks was given the unanimous plaudits of his listeners.

Wednesday of this week was no exception. Rev. Father R. J. Kirschenheuter, C. M., of St. Thomas Seminary, Denver, Colorado, by invitation addressed the club and at the conclusion of his remarks was given the unanimous plaudits of his listeners.

The reverend father is here on his annual vacation, visiting relatives, and accepted an invitation to address the club, speaking last week in New Orleans before the Delphin Club and recently before the members of the Mississippi Coast Press Club. He will leave here Tuesday for Kansas City, Mo., where he will conduct a spiritual retreat before returning to his duties at Denver.

Lately returned from Europe, he gave his listeners the benefit of not only his observations but conclusions as well. He spoke of the builders of the monumental and lasting things that stand and represent so much; how well they build and for time as well. These builders, artisans, painters, he said, work for the sake of doing things well and embodied in their endeavor their very soul and being, as it were. Later, in conclusion, he said this should serve as living and enduring inspiration and fittingly applied his remarks to the Rotary Club members.

He asked them, too, to be inspired in order they may foster all that is for the civic and moral good, to further the principles for which Rotary stands and to move onward and forward.

An unusual and unprecedented compliment paid the Rev. Kirschenheuter was to the effect that the Program Committee later invited him to return next Wednesday and again be the club's guest speaker. But leaving before then he could only thank the committee.

There will be no extra admission charged. The regular Friday and Saturday night admission prices will prevail.

First show begins at 7 o'clock and continues throughout the evening.

BENEFIT CHURCH FAIR FOR THIS WEEK-END, 1-2

All in Readiness for Mid-Summer Festival This Saturday and Sunday

General Chairman Chas. A. Gordon, Mid-Summer Festival, benefit for the debt fund of Our Lady of the Gulf, announces everything is in readiness for the two-day affair, which will take place this Saturday and Sunday, and promises to eclipse former efforts.

This was indicated at the final meeting of various committee members which was held Monday evening. Every chairman and members were hopeful as a result of their work. Generous response has met every effort, was the report, and with the many visitors in our midst it is confidently hoped, with the permanent residents there will be an outpouring on each day and the financial result anticipated will be more than amply realized.

The church has quite a heavy bonded debt. These bonds must be retired and interest paid, to say nothing of heavy insurance premium, and it will be necessary this year to realize a large sum at this benefit in order to meet the obligation.

"The outlook is very encouraging," said Chairman Gordon to The Echo "and I am satisfied every Catholic and other friends of the church will rally to the cause. I am very sanguine over the outlook and possible results."

"The two-day benefit is going over big," said Mrs. J. J. Ritayik, chairlady, "and there is every reason, with the co-operation of the people, that we and our associates are going to meet with success."

SUNDAY RACES A SUCCESS

Commodore C. A. Breath Receives Untold Praise For Event That Pleases Many

Perhaps the last outdoor motor regatta of the season in Bay St. Louis took place on Sunday last, at the north end of Bay St. Louis where the waters of Jordan river empties.

Fully five hundred cars were lined along North Beach Boulevard, including those who came to and fro during the entire afternoon, and witnessed one of the prettiest and active races of the season. There was much animation on the waters. The scene almost boggles description. And ashore the crowds that had congregated gave as much animation. People and autos had come from all adjacent parts and every coast and interior towns were well represented to say nothing of those who came from other states.

Morning parade, preceding the afternoon races, including members of Hancock county legionnaires, Bay Boy Scouts and other representative bodies and individuals, attracted the attention and admiration of many. It was a most colorful turnout and many prominent private citizens and officials both of city and county participated.

Mayo Charles Traub, Sr., and Commodore C. A. Breath headed the big parade. Notably was the Bay Community band, supplying music along the line of march, and an added feature was the Gulfport School Band, supplying music during the morning parade.

Commodore Breath and the management in general as well as the people of Bay St. Louis appreciate the friendly gesture of Gulfport in sending its School Band, an aggregation of brass instrument musicians that added appreciably to the occasion. Special thanks is returned through this medium, the Bay press.

Among the several visiting craft from away visiting the Bay waters for the occasion, was the pleasure yacht of E. V. Richards, which came over particularly for the races and was an outstanding contribution to the picturesque of the water scene. E. V. Richards, well-known moving picture magnate, has ever been a friend of Bay St. Louis and the coast and never fails to show the spirit when occasion presents itself for a manifesto.

Commodore Breath and the regatta committee did a very graceful thing and extended just recognition in the case where the two boats, "My Baby" and "Miss Slidell" turned over on the last round and were put out of their winning a prize through no cause of their own, being the victim of an accident purely over which they had no control and for which neither were responsible. Each were presented with a silver trophy for their game play and the fact that both were winners.

It was the intention that neither should lose on account of technicality. The owners, needless to say, were grateful and appreciative for so liberal attention.

An invitation has been sent to the president of the New Orleans Outboard Association to hold its next regatta in the waters of Bay St. Louis, and it is likely the invitation will be accepted, says Commodore Breath.

S. S. C. CAMP TO OPEN AUGUST 5

Brother Peter Announces New Department for Local College—Success Assured.

Brother Peter, president of St. Stanislaus college, Bay St. Louis, announces the opening of Camp Stanislaus August 5 to run until August 25 and open to boys 8 to 17 years of age. The camp will appeal, especially to boys who attend school in the city and who have little or no opportunity to swim, play ball or indulge in other healthful outdoor sports under expert supervision.

Brother Peter will be director of the camp and already has appointed a staff of aides. Brother Vincent will have charge of baseball; Brother Conrad will be swimming instructor; Junior Breath will be boxing coach; Head Coach Grady Perkins of St. Stanislaus college will teach football fundamentals; George Toca will have charge of basketball and Brother Dominic will direct tennis play and tournaments.

August is one of the best months of the year along the Gulf Coast, Brother Peter points out, and the camp should prove of great benefit to the boys who attend.

Brother Peter informs The Echo that Camp Stanislaus is in response to a constant need and consequently demand that the success of the camp is already assured. The cost for the entire three weeks, including meals, laundry and all incidentals is $37.50, of this amount $5.00 to be deposited when registering.

The price is the only cheap element in the get-up. Plenty of good, healthful food will be served and all dairy products will be served from the college's own dairy and tested cows.

The Echo welcomes the innovation. We are of the opinion it will not only prove an advantage to St. Stanislaus but an outstanding achievement to Bay St. Louis and that in time Camp Stanislaus will become a yearly factor in the affairs and prosperity of our city.

Brother Peter has planned this for some time, but it was difficult, with the various retreats held during the summer, to get a sufficiently long period of three weeks to admit of such camp activities.

LEGION LEADER IS NAMED ADJUTANT FOR STATE OF MISSISSIPPI

Budget of $29,000 Approved For Mississippi—Luther Maples Heads Committee

A press telegram from Jackson says Robert D. Morrow was re-elected state adjutant of the American Legion by the executive committee. The committee, headed by Luther Maples, Gulfport, state commander, approved a budget for $29,000 for next year; ordered all posts to elect officers in September; and endorsed the plan to pension widows of World War veterans.

R. R. Wallace of Meridian was elected judge advocate in succession of Commander Maples; Sid Berry of Hattiesburg was named historian, and Fred Todd of Jackson, financial officer. Other officers and committeemen will be appointed after the national convention in September.

Commander Maples and Adjutant Morrow were instructed to draft the legion's legislative program for presentation to the 1932 session, which includes creation of a state memorial building to veterans of all wars, on the north lawn of the old state capitol at North State and Capitol streets. The building would house the department of archives and history, educational department, American Legion and State Service Commission offices and other departments doing similar work in the state.

Rev. P. R. Stock To Speak at M. E. Church This Sunday Evening

The Rev. Paul R. Stock, pastor of Bethel Evangelical Church of New Orleans, La., will conduct services at the Methodist Church, Sunday evening at the usual hour, in the absence of the regular pastor, the Rev. C. C. Clark.

gatta in the waters of Bay St. Louis, and it is likely the invitation will be accepted, says Commodore Breath. The waters of Lake Pontchartrain are too uncertain and too choppy to admit of an outdoor boat race very well and the river, in measure, is not so desirable neither. Should this invitation be accepted Orleansians will flock to Bay St. Louis for the occasion in great numbers.

The services of Frank Martin, well-known and exceedingly popular Bay St. Louisian, in co-operating and working for the success of the regatta are well-known but an added acknowledgment will not be amiss.

SHERIFF JOE JONES ENTERTAINS AT HOME ON PEARL RIVER BANK

Candidates and Others Rally And Enjoy Hospitality of Big-Hearted Sheriff.

Saturday was another red letter day in the political campaign annals of Hancock county. Joseph C. Jones, sheriff, and who is a candidate for assessor, played host to over two thousand people at his country estate at Gainesville, on the banks of Pearl river.

It was a most congenial crowd and the affair proved one never to be forgotten. Candidates rallied in full number and it was a splendid occasion to meet the voters at one time and in one place.

Here are some interesting figures revealed concerning the spread that was served. Twenty-two hundred sandwiches were prepared and eaten. Of these 1500 were of baby veal and the balance weiners. Then hot spaghetti was served with twenty-five chickens and part of the spaghetti served with turtle.

Frank Quinn was general manager of the culinary department; John Monti cooked the spaghetti; Frank Martin served the sandwiches. Over one hundred melons were served. This with other edibles were ample for the large gathering.

Paul Johnson spoke in the interest of his race for governor and C. Greer Moore spoke in the interest of Mike Conner who was unable to be present because of a previous engagement. Local candidates presented their claims.

Sheriff Jones' lavish hospitality was genuinely enjoyed and the guests left that afternoon in grateful remembrance of the day.

PLANS TO LET OUT CONTRACT

For Further Hard-Surfacing Spanish Trail—Letter to Chamber of Commerce

President George R. Rea of the Bay St. Louis Chamber of Commerce, is in receipt of a letter from J. F. Thames, member of the State Highway Department, concerning the work of hard-surfacing of Old Spanish Trail, from the Louisiana State line, which is in progress.

Commissioner Thames, a most ardent friend of the cause, has been pushing the work for the State, despite the continued rains and then following and invasion of mosquitoes in the swamp region of Honey Island.

President Rea is anxious to have the hard-surfacing finished at the earliest possible moment and also inquired as to the possibility of hard-surfacing the balance of the highway into Bay St. Louis, since the work now in progress embraces a ten-mile territory. Writing to Mr. Thames, Mr. Rea received a reply a few days ago, part of which follows:

"Replying to your favor of the 15th, inst., beg to say that it is my hope and purpose to complete the road from Bay St. Louis to Pearl River by letting a contract on the remainder of same, excluding the ten miles which the State Highway Department is constructing with state force."

"I hope to let the contract for the additional seventeen miles before the work on the ten mile experiment road shall have been completed."

Two miles of the highway is finished, the balance that has received first treatment from the cold tar preparation and slag covering, is yet to be topped with the finishing topping. It is over the unfinished roadway that much complaint has been heard. This is very unfair. The road is not yet finished and it is unfair to criticize that which remains incomplete. And again: Traffic is passing over this work with little or no interruption. The right of way should be to have a detour or closed the road for a while, but it is not the intention of the highway department to put the traveling public to any inconvenience. On the contrary, it is the highway department that is suffering much inconvenience in carrying out the work.

It appears to The Echo the public should be patient and reserve adverse opinion until the roadway is completed and turned over to the public as such.

W. A. McDonald's Brother of This City Loses Beloved Wife

Mrs. D. H. McDonald, beloved wife of an older brother of W. A. McDonald, of Bay St. Louis, passed away at her home in Biglow, Ark., on Wednesday of last week. She was a well-known resident of her section and a woman noted for her many virtues and personal qualities, her passing away causing general regret.

The funeral took place at Collierville, Tenn. The surviving husband had been twice married, the second time to the recently-deceased over a period of forty-nine years.

One daughter survives, Mrs. M. F. Boyd, residing near Clarkdale, Mississippi.

CONNER TO SPEAK IN BAY CITY

Gubernatorial Candidate Comes to Bay St. Louis Saturday Morning To Speak.

Mike Conner, candidate for gubernatorial honors, will speak in Bay St. Louis Saturday morning at 10:30 o'clock on the lawn of St. Stanislaus College on the occasion of the opening of a two-day fair, benefit church of Our Lady of the Gulf. Conner will officially open the benefit and it is confidently expected he will be greeted by an unusually large crowd.

Mr. Conner, it was locally rumored in some quarters through some false impression was a Bilboite. Such is not the case. Nothing could be more remote.

At the Meridian rally authentic evidence of Conner's gains as the result of the withdrawal of Lester Franklin was given by Mrs. John A. Clark of DeKalb, state campaign manager for Mr. Franklin, who endorsed Conner as her choice.

"I am a personal and political friend of Governor Bilbo," said Mrs. Clark, "but I cannot serve the best interests of my state by supporting the candidate he has endorsed, Attorney General George Mitchell."

Fears of Governor Bilbo's ability to dictate to those who have supported him in the past in voting against Mike Conner were quoted adequately at Meridian by several speakers including Ney Williams, Henry Kahn, Toney Crawford and Sam Massongale, all former Bilbo leaders. All expressed high regard for Bilbo, but declared that they would mark their ballots for Mike Conner, who they know to be free from any entanglements.

Mr. Massongale, formerly called the "Bilbo wheeler" of Covington county, summed up the sentiment of Bilbo's former friends when he said: "We have given Bilbo the governor's office twice. We don't owe him anything now—he owes us something."

THE BIG CITY.

Very often we hear young women tell how they would like to be "hostess" in some big city hotel or club. These young ladies know very little about what they talk about. They should read the papers and get posted on what "night life" in the great cities is.

A committee in New York, a typical big city, reports that commercialized vice is greater and more brazen than it has been for fifteen years. Dance halls, night clubs, and speakeasies recruit the girls. The committee warns young women from "out in the country" coming to New York not to serve as "hostesses."

"Girls who elect to chose the profession of dance hostess," says the committee report, "are subjected to a hardening process. Their first shock doubtless comes in the realization that dancing is not the primary requirement of most of the halls." This investigating committee believes that conditions will get worse before they improve.

Young women may be attracted by the outside glamour of big city life, but they are better off home, where they know who to trust and who to leave alone. The prettier they are, the more need to be careful. That's a sad commentary on our age, but it's one worth bearing in mind.

LONGER SHIRT TAILS.

While others are advocating ways and means of increasing the use of cotton in order to get rid of the surplus staple, we also have a suggestion to offer: Force the shirt manufacturers to lengthen the tails of their product. At present it is almost an impossibility to purchase such a garment the tail of which reaches more than a couple of inches below a man's waist band. We are for longer shirt tails, and we don't care who knows it.

SHOULD PAY FOR RASCALITY.

The Collins Commercial says: "Not all elections in Mississippi within recent years have been honestly held," and then hints very broadly that it is in possession of knowledge which leads its editor to believe that fraudulent practices will be resorted to in the coming primary. The man or men who attempts by dishonest means to control an election should be made to pay a severe penalty for his or their rascality.

ANOTHER FIRE HORROR.

Another fire horror is reported, this time from Pittsburgh, Pa., where the Little Sisters of the Poor home for the Aged was burned last Saturday, and brought death to 30 of the inmates. The institution housed 230 infirm men and women and it was only by heroic work of volunteer rescuers that the death list was not much greater.

HELP TO CAPITAL CITY.

The first manufacturing plant to use natural gas in Mississippi will be the new Dixie Glass Bottle Manufacturing Company at Jackson. It is an enterprise which will employ a goodly number of men and its pay roll will be a great help to the capital city.

C. C. Julian, California and mid-continent oil operator, is in jail at Oklahoma City, unable to furnish a $50,000 bond required when charged with using the mails to defraud.

Some of Attorney General Mitchell's friends are undecided as to whether Governor Bilbo's support of their candidate will prove an asset or a liability. They have only until next Tuesday's primary results are announced to find out.

One of our exchanges remarks: "Well, as we understand this moratorium business, it means Germany doesn't have to pay what it couldn't pay, anyhow, and will be loaned money to do it." No mistake, brother. You have sized it up about right.

A couple of years from now millions of people will be telling each other what fools they were not to buy standard securities and real estate now.—Hattiesburg American. Absolutely true, but just think of the many more millions who now have not the wherewithal to purchase either "standard securities or real estate."

The Philadelphia Inquirer says "what the wets of both parties seem to want is a political machine that will carry alcohol in the radiator without giving off any odor." And there are also a lot of professed dries who want a machine of that kind. Indeed the hypocrisy of the dries is the one thing that contributes more harm to the cause of prohibition than all other causes combined.

Chicago is a city of 3,376,000 population, and an investigation recently completed found that its citizens had been fleeced by short weights on an average of $16.20 per capita, penny by penny. According to an assistant State attorney out of 1415 stores from which test purchases were made 487 gave short weights. Such methods of that are not confined to Chicago, but we do not hear of any one starting an investigation with a view to putting an end to the indefensible practice of dishonest tradesmen who are found in almost every community.

MIS-DIRECTED EFFORTS.

THE "Association for the Advancement of Negroes" and all other organizations which have been exerting their efforts in behalf of those eight Alabama negroes awaiting execution for criminal assault on two white girls, would do well to turn their attention toward other channels for aiding the colored race. The South has been endeavoring in every way possible to put an end to lynching and interference from outsiders, be they in the North or in Russia, only tends to widen the breach and stir up racial prejudice as between the whites and negroes. Already several lives have been sacrificed because of such interference in this particular case and there will probably be more whites and negroes who will lose their lives unless misguided meddlers cease their threats against and criticism of Alabama's chief executive and the courts of that State.

In due time those eight brutes will pay the penalty imposed by law for their atrocious crime despite the efforts of the "Association for the Advancement of Negroes" or any other organization essaying to stir up strife.

OUR PROPHECY COMES TRUE.

SEVERAL months ago The Echo predicted that Lester Franklin would not remain in the gubernatorial race until August 4th.

Last week when he issued a statement to the effect that he was retiring from the contest because he was financially unable to meet the cost of continuing his campaign it was no matter for surprise.

There is no disputing the fact that Mr. Franklin is a man of more than mediocre ability, but unfortunately he was handicapped by a species of notoriety which would have proved disastrous to the any political aspirant of even greater ability than he possesses.

It is a safe bet that he will never again be a factor in our State's political affairs.

TAKE A REST.

The vacation time is passing. If you haven't had a little rest yet this summer, plan to take one.

Everybody in Bay St. Louis should stop their regular work long enough to break the pace of the habitual daily routine.

Too many of us stay in a rut, doing the same things in the same way every day, pretty well. The old mind gets foggy from disuse—cut out the ruts and bump along for a little while.

Many say that a vacation costs a lot of money. Well, that depends. If you haven't any spare change for a trip, take a vacation at home. Just quit work, hang around the house, give yourself up entirely to the family. Plan a few simple pastimes and share them.

The rest you need isn't necessarily going away to a far-city and rushing yourself around there. Break the grind of having to work, loaf, do nothing, just rest, and enjoy a few days relaxation and quiet, if you can't do anything else.

AVIATION GROWS.

Just as a young flyer announces a non-stop flight from New York to Turkey, and as the Lindberghs undertake their aerial journey to Japan, another flyer, Capt. Hawkes sets a new record for the New York to Havana return trip.

Hawkes had the record until a few days ago when another flyer captured it from him. Immediately the Captain prepared to regain his laurels, and he did in excellent style. In sixteen hours three minutes after he left New York he was back, having been in the air fourteen hours thirty-five minutes of that time.

Aviation is the coming mode of travel. The older folks may not have to learn to use wings, but the younger ones might as well prepare for it, if they expect to travel at all a few years from now.

VOTE FOR BEST MAN.

EVERY honest, patriotic and clean-minded elector agrees with the Madison County Herald when it says that "the main thing for the Mississippi voter to keep in mind when he goes into the voting booth on August 4 is Mississippi. Vote for the man best for the various offices, especially in the case of governor, state senator, representative and supervisor. These are the men who will say where the taxpayers' dollar will go." If the Herald's advice is followed Mississippi will profit and there will be no more scandal, waste and extravagance such as our great old commonwealth has suffered from for some years.

BOUND TO COME.

The panic of 1837 which occurred during Van Buren administration 1837-1841, was the most disastrous and devastating in the history of the country and those who think they are having a hard time now should reflect upon what their forefathers of that early day had to undergo.—Mobile Register. Those who are in the depths of despair and are without hope that the present era of depression will never come to an end should be of good cheer, as even worse conditions prevailed in the long ago. Prosperity will come, it may be a little slower pace than we would like but it will ultimately get here.

"NOW AIN'T THAT SOMEFIN"

For the first time since the era of reconstruction, troops have been called on to preserve peace and enforce order in conducting an election in Mississippi. That happened last week up in Issaquena county where an attempt was made to bulldoze and intimidate two of the election commissioners who were engaged in purging the registration books. As Andrew H. Brown, president of the Fresh Air Taxicab Co., Inc., would say: "Now ain't that somefin?"

Senator Edwin S. Broussard asserts that when Governor Huey Long "filled his own credentials of election with the United States senate prior to March 4, 1931," he (Long) is illegally discharging the duties of governor. It looks that way to us.

VIEWS OF OUR NEWS

By Chicagoan

Chicago, Ill., July 28.—Arthur Brisbane, reputedly the highest paid editorial writer in the world but who owes many of his millions to wise real estate investments, some of which are in the Coast country, I believe, has repeatedly asserted that there is but one crop of land. Well, according to the Echo, J. N. Wisner, farseeing advertising man of Texas, when a resident of Bay St. Louis said, "Keep your eye on Waveland!" Subsequent development of the Gulf Coast has proven Mr. Wisner's vision. And if Mr. Brisbane had acquired a bit of the Waveland "crop" of land, his immense fortune would be still greater. Sagacious men and women, even in this day, will give heed to Mr. Wisner's admonition. They will not only keep their eyes on Waveland, but they will act to participate in its development which is going forward at a rapid pace.

"Away back when" . . . you know, in the days before the bridge was built across the Bay, dwellers on Henderson Point and there were many then as now, felt themselves quite removed from Bay St. Louis. To reach that thriving and friendly town it was necessary to cross the bay on a ferry, or else to make a long motor trip around the bay and its bayous. Now, says last week's Echo, residents on the Point find it a delightful morning diversion to spin across the two mile bridge and do their shopping in Bay St. Louis where the business men treat them with such courtesy and so completely fill their needs. And in the evening, while the already hidden sun reminds them of its constancy by leaving behind it a beautiful glow that settles on the quiet water, these fortunate dwellers in a favored land add to their enjoyment of life by crossing the span which man has strung across the Bay, and spend their evenings in the friendly city on the other side. All of which, the Echo points out, redounds to the benefit of the people of Bay St. Louis, as well as to that of their valued neighbors.

At the Thursday meeting of the Women's Missionary Society, says last week's Echo, one of the speakers introduced by Mrs. S. D. Silr, the presiding officer, was Mrs. Schilling of Waveland. This speaker brought to the assembly women a description of "another land" and of a people quite different from those who inhabit the western hemisphere. Having spent some years in China, and having lived among its quiet, though intelligent, people, Mrs. Schilling was qualified to describe the ways in which the customs of the Orient differ from ours. Also was she able, and no doubt did, tell that she met some delightful men and women in that distant land, kind and considerate were many of the strangers. And although their habits and manners differ from those of home folks, the missionary found no fundamental difference between them and the people of Hancock county. At least none which would justify any but the most cordial feelings between the two groups.

To Chicago last week came the Bay St. Louis delegation of the National Young Women's Benevolent Association under the chaperonage of the Misses Miriam and Levia Engman. Leaving Sunday morning, says the Echo, they landed comfortably in Chicago the following afternoon by the efficient employees of the L. & N. No gangster's gun greeted their arrival, and even though Democratic Mayor Cermak was in New York for the day, those of the group who had not been in Chicago before probably have a better opinion of the city than they did while they depended entirely upon newspaper headlines for their information. And I mean the headlines appearing in certain Chicago newspapers at that.

Not the least of the things to inspire pride in the report of County Health Officer Shipp, a summary of which was given when the doctor appeared before the Rotary Club as its principal speaker, is the manner in which young men and women of the community use the health which Providence and a good climate have given them. Sunburned and hearty was John J. McDonald as he hauled his good craft, "Princess," to the lead in the sail boat race in the recent regatta. And when the young captain took the wheel of his speedster, the "Humbler," it had nothing else to do but to pull out in the lead of the boats in that class.

The Shell Oil Company, world known oil corporation, has selected Bay St. Louis as its "capital" for the surrounding territory, says last week's paper. E. J. Arceneaux will preside over the destinies of the Shell Company in Hancock county, looking for a retail way at his filling station and as selling agent for the county. Shell gas, the sales of which are increasing in Hancock county, is a superior grade of oil, but, per chance, those sales owe their ever increasing volume to the personality and efficiency of Mr. Arceneaux and the promptness of Mr. Banderet the gentleman in charge of the deliveries.

ELECTION DAY IN MISSISSIPPI TUESDAY, AUG. 4.

By JOHN T. MEYERS
(For The Sea Coast Echo)

The dawn of Election Day throughout the State of Mississippi lies only four fleeting days ahead. On Tuesday, August 4th, the public-spirited voters of the State will be entrusted with the important duty of selecting, to the best of their ability, candidates to various offices of trust and responsibility. A sample ballot reveals that competition for election to offices ranging from the exalted place of Governor to constable is marked by rather keen rivalry.

Every intelligent Mississippi voter is fully cognizant of the vital significance connected with his privilege of ballot. At the polls he will follow the sincere and unbiased dictates of his mind and heart in casting his vote for the candidates he feels will most completely and faithfully serve the interests of Mississippi, the country, and the people at large.

And after all the votes have been counted and the victors proclaimed, the many men and women voters, whose combined efforts and confidence made possible their election, will rightfully expect of the newly elected officials fulfillment of every pre-election promise—every ideal or platform with honest effort, sincerity of purpose. At all times keeping foremost in mind and heart the best interests of the glorious State of Mississippi and its citizens when, on January 1st, they take the solemn oath of office.

"May the Almighty grant every elected candidate the courage and pureness of soul to keep his duty and obligations to our State of Mississippi, its counties, and the people ever above and apart from interests of self. May their conscience and character be not darkened with one single misdeed against the sacred trust that has been placed in their hands by the people of their State," is the trusting prayer on the lips of Mississippi voters as the dawn of Election Day draws near. . . . And the officials who will be elected must heed to that earnest prayer if they be staunch and true Mississippians at heart.

Arthur Brisbane, writing of Albert B. Fall, former member of President Harding's cabinet, who is now serving a year's sentence in jail at Santa Fe, N. M., for accepting a bribe, said: "The President has power to pardon the man convicted. His jailer can release him for good conduct at the end of four months. Few would oppose his pardon, or early release. No one on earth has power to take from him the shadow of the prison doorway, or relieve this country of the disgraceful fact that its prisons are not made for very rich men." Too true! But who is to blame? With oodles of money with which to employ shrewd and unscrupulous attorneys a plausible defense can be cooked up for "every rich man," however guilty they may be. Subordination of justice is a fine art possessed by criminal lawyers who defend the "very rich men."

Recently a New York man was summoned to testify before an investigating committee, and he readily assented to tell all he knew about bribery and crookedness in the city's government. On his way to meet the committee he changed his mind and threw himself beneath the wheels of a trolley car. He evidently realized the fact that if he "spilt the beans" by telling what he knew of those he exposed through his testimony, and he preferred suicide to being "placed on the spot."

SAVE SOME

When you get your pay check at the end of each week what do you do with it? The wise thing to do with it is to deposit it in the Merchants Bank & Trust Company, where it will draw four per cent interest annually, where it is safe, where it mounts up week by week until you are comfortably established financially. Don't spend it all, for no matter how bright the future seems, there are bound to be rainy days. Don't be a butterfly caught in the rain. Save some of your money.

BY way of comment on certain language employed by European diplomats in telling what they want Secretary Mellon says, "Just use the phrase anyway. Nobody will know what it means and it will be all right." Andy is now one of us.

Tom Johnson, Lord of the Privy Seal, informs the English House of Commons that it is time for England to get after the canned goods market. One does not hear so much as formerly about Britons never being slaves, Britannia ruling the waves, the sun never setting on the British empire, and so on. England is dropping the bunk and getting down to business. When a man who goes by the name of "Tom" occupies a high place in English affairs, and starts to talk about canned goods, it is a sign that Old Albion is starting competition of a kind that may really prove troublesome.

George Bernard Shaw, on a visit to Berlin, tells the papers that he is

South American newspaper leaves us with a pearl of wisdom when it states that one of the calamities bequeathed to the world by the war, was the rise of the expert.

France agrees to befriend Germany, and says that she will be ready to discuss the terms of financial co-operation later, within "an international framework." It is to be suspected that the most acceptable framework would be a well-constructed gallows-tree, from which Germany could be effectively and permanently suspended.

Twenty-three European Governments report that their cash balances are less than expected, due in many instances to unemployment relief. It is to be questioned whether the money expended under that head was wisely spent in every instance. Neither the English dole system nor the American plan of putting men to work temporarily on projects financed by taxation, goes to the root of the matter, and as time passes, the Hoover administration gives no indication of ability to pull the country out of the mire.

NINE-MILE HIGHWAY ALL THAT LOUISIANA WILL HAVE TO BUILD

Engineers Have Pronounced Route Easily Feasible and Executive Has Given Repeated Assurances That Air-line Hope Will Become Reality.

By GEORGE HEALY, JR.
(In N. O. Times-Picayune)

Demands of Orleansians, residents of the Mississippi Gulf Coast and motorists generally for a new route and for a shorter route from the Rigolets bridge to Bay St. Louis moved a step closer to satisfaction several days ago when workmen for the Mississippi Highway Commission started hard-surfacing the last gravel link in the Old Spanish Trail between this city and Mobile.

Construction of a nine-mile "air-line" or "short cut" highway from the Rigolets bridge to Pearlton would decrease by more than 20 miles the motoring distance between New Orleans and Bay St. Louis.

The hard-surfacing of the existing route between the two cities is being done primarily to give the motoring public a dustless, if circuitous, highway connecting Louisiana's paved sections of the Old Spanish Trail with the improved roads on the coast.

Long's Condition Met
In making the existing route dustless, however, the Mississippi Highway Commission will meet a condition laid down by Governor Huey P. Long several months ago, when he insisted that Louisiana would not start work on its part of the proposed "short cut" until her sister state improved its road from Bay St. Louis to the Honey Island bridge.

Louisiana, the chief executive assured a group of Mississippians, will start building an "air-line" highway from the Rigolets bridge toward the coast when the Mississippi Highway Commission completes the hard-surfacing of the existing route.

Ten miles of the Honey Island-Bay St. Louis Road are expected to be surfaced within the next few weeks, and the remainder of the mileage into Bay St. Louis will be given a top treatment when funds for this work become available to the Mississippi Commission.

Engineering Task Easy
Engineers for the commission estimated that Louisiana could build its link of this highway for between $1,000,000 and $1,500,000 including the construction of four bridges. The area through which the proposed road would pass is composed of alternating ridges and marshes, the surveys reported and no engineering difficulties would be encountered in accomplishing the work.

When a location was under consideration for the Rigolets bridge, the Louisiana Commission engineers pointed out, a study was made to determine the site at which the bridge could best serve traffic to the proposed short cut. The bridge was located in conformity with results of this study.

Supervisors of Hancock county many months ago expressed their willingness and readiness to issue bond to pay their share of the cost of building a bridge over Pearl River at Pearlton, linking Mississippi's section of the proposed route with that of Louisiana. There is an existing highway from Pearlton through Logtown to the Old Spanish Trail, but Hancock citizens at several public meetings have indicated their state's desire to extend the paved Bay St. Louis-Lakeshore Road to the east bank of the Pearl river.

Would Save Many Miles
Without the proposed road from Lakeshore to Pearlton, the motoring distance between New Orleans and Bay St. Louis would be more than 20 miles longer. Construction of Louisiana's nine-mile link of the proposed route, should the Lakeshore-Pearlton highway be built, the mileage saving would be even greater.

Much consideration has been given by organizations and individuals to proposals for constructing the "air-line" highway to the coast, but few definite results have been obtained. In May, 1928, before he assumed office as chief executive, Governor Long received a report from a citizen whom he had authorized to collect data on the proposed "short cut." Mr. Fourmy, who then was state engineer, announced in December, 1928, that the matter of building the Rigolets-Pearlton route in the federal aid system was being considered.

Representatives of the Motor League of Louisiana in May, 1929, formally requested that the road be built with the least possible delay; and in July of the same year the Automotive Trades Association of Louisiana endorsed the project.

J. M. Nugent, vice-chairman of the Louisiana Highway Commission, on October 15, 1929, advised the Motor League of Louisiana that the commission was willing to build the "short cut" if the Legislature would "permit the bonding of an additional two cents of the gasoline tax."

In April, 1930, Governor Long assured members of the Old Spanish Trail committee of the Association of Commerce that he was considering construction of the route and that no tolls would be charged on the road.

When the Legislature in September, 1930, was considering the constitutional amendment which bonded an additional two cents of the gasoline tax for the building of paved highways and construction of free bridges, Governor Long admitted that the "short cut" route was not included in the proposed highway system provided by this amendment, but insisted that the route would be built.

"It is not practical," the chief executive explained at this time, "to put the 'short cut' road on the high-way map which is attached to the amendment, because no definite route has been selected."

Alarmed for Slidell
Before the Legislature approved the proposed amendment Representative Fred J. Heintz of St. Tamary parish announced that he was opposed to construction of the "short cut" because it would divert traffic from Slidell.

After Governor Long's bond issue plan was approved and the highway program under this plan was started, the "short cut" was again mentioned.

Hundreds of prominent Louisianians, Mississippians and Alabama citizens met at Bay St. Louis on December 2, 1930, to demand that the nine-mile road be built. The late Gus D. Revell, representing Governor Long, announced that Louisiana's chief executive would be "ready to the state of Mississippi's surfaces the present longer route from Bay St. Louis to the Honey Island bridge."

The three members of Mississippi's Highway Commission attended the December meeting, one of several held in Bay St. Louis to ask construction of the "short cut," and expressed their approval of the project.

Mississippi Seeks Funds
Mississippi's commissioners explained, however, that because no financial arrangements had been made by their Legislature for a hard-surfaced road program, difficulties might be encountered in prosecuting construction of a road from Lakeshore to Pearlton. The commissioners said that they would attempt to find sufficient funds to place a topping on the existing gravel link of the Old Spanish Trail between Bay St. Louis and the Louisiana line.

The work which was started several days ago fulfills promises made by the Mississippi commissioners at the meeting.

Walter Gex, Sr., of Bay St. Louis told visitors at the session that the stood ready at any time to issue bonds to pay its share of the cost of bridging Pearl river; and Mayor T. Semmes Walmesley of New Orleans assured the advocates of the "short cut" that New Orleans "will not be satisfied until this highway is built."

Governor Long's statement in March, 1931, that Louisiana was "waiting on Mississippi" in connection with the "short cut" project precipitated a controversy with Governor Theodore G. Bilbo, who took exception to the Louisiana chief executive's charges that Mississippi politicians were "wasting money" they ought to be spending on roads, and suggestions that a gubernatorial candidate whom he named might be able to improve matters.

Long Repeats Promise
The verbal clash between the two governors was ended soon after its beginning, with Governor Long repeating his promise that Louisiana would start work on its part of the road "when Mississippi hard-surfaced the road from the Honey Island

Waveland and Bay St. Louis Have No Dangerous Pitfalls

Regretting the deplorable fatalities that have occurred along the Coast on the other side away from this section and Pass Christian, it is gratifying to note that there are no pitfalls in the water as a result of the dredging for filling behind the seawall.

It will be remembered there was comparatively little dredging to fill behind the local walls, and this work has been done so long a time ago, since the wall was first built on this side of the Coast, that all pitfalls, if any, have long been filled.

However, the safety first caution is always timely, and The Echo would again ask that they pass the word along, to be careful anywhere and at all times. Going into water beyond one's depth is never advisable, regardless how good a swimmer the venturesome swimmer.

THE CANKER WORM.

"Perjury is one of the greatest evils that afflict the country today. It is the canker-worm gnawing at the heart of Justice. It is a moral reptile whose venom is more deadly in the administration of law and justice than the venom of the worm of the Nile or the cobra is to human organism. Perjury should be characterized and reprobated in every charge to the grand juries of the counties; its odium and disqualification and disastrous affect should be taught in every school, denounced in the Press and Pulpits of the land; it should be gibbeted on the sky line of infamy for the execration of the ages."—Associate Justice Ethridge.

bridge to Bay St. Louis."

Mississippi now is engaged in meeting the Louisiana governor's demand. The stretch of gravel road between Honey Island and Bay St. Louis is recent years has been regarded as one of the roughest and most dangerous pieces of highway in this section.

Hard-surfacing of this road temporarily will satisfy demands for a paved road to the coast. The major accomplishment through the existing route's improvement, however, will be to bring dreams of the "short cut" a step nearer to realization.

Louisiana can bring the Mississippi Gulf coast 20 miles closer to New Orleans by building a nine-mile link of highway; and demands for accomplishment of this "short cut" apparently are growing louder.

BAY REGATTA SUNDAY HAS THRILLS GALORE FOR MANY SPECTATORS

Largest Crowd Yet Gathered Witnesses Races in Different Classes and Free-For-All—List of Various Winners—Much Credit to C. A. Breath.

Though mishaps knocked two fast boats out of almost sure victories and cost another one second place, the outdoor motorboat regatta held here Sunday afternoon proved the most successful since Charles A. Breath, Sr., started the series of outdoor races several years ago. One of the boats to suffer defeat because of a mishap was the champion Dot, driven by Walker Pate, suffered when finishing the last round of the free-for-all, in front of her field. The Dot ran out of gas as Newton Howard's Wee Roo, which was running her a close second swept to victory in fast time.

Coming to a full stop, the Dot did not even finish. In the race for displacement boats, the Miss Slidell and the My Baby were fighting it out and tuck for first place, Miss Slidell leading by several boat lengths when they took the last turn to head down the home stretch of the last lap. Miss Slidell turned over, throwing Al Sharp, her pilot, head over heels, and My Baby, trying to cut the corners around the schooner which served as stake boat, also capsized. They both were several minutes ahead of Louis Wagner's And How III, but Wagner plugged right along and took the race.

Genevieve III won two of the afternoon's races, finishing first in classes C and D and third in the free-for-all when the Dot was eliminated.

The largest crowd that ever attended the motorboat races lined the seawall along the course at the mouth of Jordan river. Handsome prizes were given to the first, second and third boats in each class. Though badly beaten in the free-for-all event, Genevieve III made the best time of the afternoon for the course when she won the class D race in 11 minutes 10 seconds. Wee Roo III, in winning the free-for-all event, ran the distance in 11 minutes 30 seconds. The Dot's time would have been much faster, as at the end of the third round she was timed in 8:27 ½, while the Wee Roo III was timed in 8:30.

Frank Lobrano Jr., driving his Wee Step, won the class B event.

Summaries:
Class B—Wee Step, Frank Lobrano Jr., Point a la Hache, first, 13:35; Just Imagine, A. L. Taylor, Pass Christian, second, time 16:22; Wee Roo Ed Pottevant, Mandeville, third, time 18:11.

Class C—Genevieve III, first, time 12:40; Miss Priss, C. N. Mickler, New Orleans, second, time 12:22; Miss Slidell, A. Sharp, Slidell, La., third, time 12:50. Wee Step and Wee Roo III also ran.

Class D—Genevieve III, first, time 11:21; Wee Roo III, Howard, second, 11:28; Miss Priss, Mickler, third, 12:17. Wee Step and Wee Roo III also ran.

Free-for-All—Wee Roo III, Howard first, time 11:30; Wow, Robert Lobrano, Pointe a la Hache, second, time 11:35; Genevieve III, third, time 11:42. Wee Roo also ran.

Displacement—And How III only boat to finish, time 14:19.

EDITORIAL OF THE DAY

THE ZERO HOUR.

Hattiesburg American
Tuesday, August Fourth, is the zero hour in the modern history of Mississippi. Then it is that 300,000 Democratic electors are to make a momentous choice. The future welfare and happiness of 2,000,000 people depends on that decision.

The issue is sharply drawn between political chicanery and common honesty; between fiscal chaos and a balanced budget; between intelligent democracy and insane demagoguery. There is no middle ground. The question is which shall prevail.

Another four years like the last means financial and moral bankruptcy. We must choose between a conglomeration of the Dark Ages or the glories of the Renaissance.

Mississippians have it within their power to remain slaves of the Egyptians, doomed to "make bricks without straw" or to follow a Moses through the wilderness to the Land of Promise.

A Campaign Misrepresentation Nailed

TO THE VOTERS OF LAMAR, PEARL RIVER AND HANCOCK COUNTIES:

It becomes necessary for me to reply to a circular campaign document which my opponent has just broadcast over the district, which circular does me a very grave injustice. In this circular my opponent, Mr. J. E. Stockstill, makes the charge that I am in favor of a stock law for South Mississippi and that I supported such a measure in the 1928 session of the Legislature. Mr. Stockstill knows that his statement is absolutely untrue, but, in desperation and in order to mislead the people, he comes out, at this late hour, in the hope that the truth will not be known in time for me to refute the charges before the election.

The State-wide stock law was passed before I became a member of the legislature and Mr. Stockstill knows this to be true. It was enacted over the combined opposition of the South Mississippi members of the Legislature. In 1928 when the legislature met there were twenty-one counties in South Mississippi (Lamar, Pearl River and Hancock included) that were under quarantine against the cattle tick. Something had to be done to relieve these twenty-one counties. Accordingly, an appropriation of Five Hundred and Fifty Thousand ($550,000.00) dollars was made to complete the tick eradication campaign in this territory, and I am the author of a bill appropriating $25,000.00 to build a State-line fence between Louisiana and Mississippi, all of which has been done and tick eradication has been completed throughout the entire State. The quarantine against South Mississippi live stock has been raised by the Federal Government and South Mississippi is free of the cattle tick. In order to accomplish this it became necessary for all the representatives from the twenty-one counties to agree that the State-wide stock law remain on the statute books, and that no effort would be made to repeal the law. We agreed to this because there was nothing else we could do. The other sixty-one counties of the State held the whip over us on the $550,000.00 appropriation until South Mississippi representatives agreed for the stock law to remain. What else could we do? What could any honest representative do under such circumstances? We agreed to the compromise in order to save South Mississippi from perpetual quarantine by the Federal Government. I did it not because I was in favor of the stock law, for the stock law was already on the statute books; but I did it because I wanted my county released from quarantine. I was opposed to the stock law then. I am opposed to it now, but am willing for the people, through local option, to vote it out if they do not want it.

HERE IS WHAT MY NEAR NEIGHBORS SAY ABOUT MY POSITION ON THE STOCK LAW:

TO THE VOTERS OF THE 40TH SENATORIAL DISTRICT OF MISSISSIPPI:

We, the undersigned citizens of Pearl River County, and near neighbors of Hon. John Lumpkin, hereby assert and positively state that we have been and are now in a position to know the position Mr. Lumpkin has maintained toward the State-wide stock law in so far as it applies to South Mississippi. Any statement, therefore, from any person or source, that Mr. Lumpkin was in favor of a stock law for South Mississippi is absolutely untrue and without foundation. He has always and is NOW opposed to such a law and we resent any effort, for political propaganda, to connect him with the state-wide stock law.

Thomas, Port Lader, L. H. Lader, Ross Landrum, Marion Beall, J. M. Rester, J. O. Lee, J. W. Phillips, Felix Lader.

TO THE VOTERS OF HANCOCK COUNTY

IT HAS BEEN CALLED to the attention of the Hugh White campaign committee that it is being circulated in Hancock County, and perhaps other counties where are lots of wild lands, that Hugh White is in favor of a fence law. This is a lie, pure and simple, and nothing but political propaganda. Mr. White has never mentioned fence of no fence and has never made any reference in any speech at any place to the stock law, except at Poplarville he assured the people of Pearl River county that he would certainly cooperate with the Boards of Supervisors in the South Mississippi counties in matters of local concern.

Everybody knows that the Board of Supervisors in counties where there is a vast area of wild lands are not going to be in favor of a fence law. Mr. White's first and only utterance upon the subject is equivalent to saying that he is against a fence law. This is only one of several falsehoods that have been gotten out to injure Mr. White and we trust that no friend of his will pay any attention to any such misrepresentations.

CAMPAIGN COMMITTEE.

Plan Assessment Of Bus Franchise In Magnolia State

A test case seeking to assess bus franchises at $1000 per mile in Mississippi for ad valorem taxes has been instituted by W. J. Miller, state tax collector.

Mr. Miller, through his attorney, Will H. Watkins, has notified the tax assessor of Hinds county, as well as other counties through which the lines are operated, to back assess the operating lines for ad valorem taxes. The effort of Tax Collector Miller to make an additional assessment is based upon the theory that the franchises are valuable property rights, possessing an actual value separate and apart from other physical property.

At present, only the property is assessed for ad valorem taxes, in addition to a privilege tax paid by the bus lines for operating in the state. Companies named in the action include the Pickwick-Greyhound lines and the Teche Lines, Inc., two of the largest operating lines in the state. The assessment sought in Hinds county would cover not only franchises exercised over highways in Hinds county, but over all highways in in Mississippi over which the companies maintain routes said Mr. Watkins. "Assessments are being made in each county upon the mileage over which the franchise is exercised in the county."

OUR MOST SERIOUS PROBLEM

While these ranting ones bestir themselves and seek our suffrage, what solution have they to offer for South Mississippi's most serious problem? Take Stone county. Of 283,000 acres of land in that county 150,000 is delinquent on the rolls for taxes. With 23,000 acres in the county reserved as state school land, we see here a small county with over half its land already delinquent, with every likelihood that title may mature in Mississippi.

Stone county is suffering what many other South Mississippi counties suffer. Here lies South Mississippi's most serious problem, and where is the far-seeing statesman either offering a solution or giving constructive thought to it? How will these delinquent acres be redeemed? Where will revenues be found to replace the public moneys gathered from this source?—Gulf-Port Guide.

Personal and General Notes of Week From Waveland and Vicinity

V. E. WEBER Box 134
Waveland, Miss.

WAVELAND has many visitors just now. Possibly the full summer quota is at its best and will continue until September 1st. Oceanians are particularly fond of Waveland. They like the close proximity, the open spaces and the magnificent view of the Mississippi Sound. They like the bathing afforded by the salt waters of the gulf and in all they come to enjoy a combination of pleasures and advantages possibly not found elsewhere on the Coast, even though the entire coast country is a veritable Eden.

The hard-surfaced beach boulevard, which the county built, is an attraction that has added immeasurably value to this section and Clermont Harbor and Lake Shore as well enjoy this advantage.

While Waveland continues to build as a summer resort and each year finds an increasing popularity, the commercial side of Waveland keeps pace with it. The Morrere two-story commercial building on Coleman avenue would do justice to many a town larger than Waveland, and the recently constructed Herlihy building which houses the town drug store and postoffice is a veritable asset. Miller's new service station, corner R. R. avenue and St. Joseph street, replacing a building destroyed by fire, also adds to appearance and value.

Wave land might be destined to become a great city, but the present intention is to make it an ideal place to live and enjoy life, and its commercial side to keep pace with the growth of its population. If in doubt where to live, Mr. Outsider, where to spend the days of rest and recreation that you are entitled to come to Waveland. If you wish an ideal place to live for your children's health and for their general welfare come to Waveland.

Mr. R. W. Dietrich and Mrs. A. P. Primier of New Orleans have bought building sites on Nicholson avenue near the beach.

Mrs. White of New Orleans has bought a building site on Nicholson avenue from Weston Lumber Company.

Mr. L. O'Dwyer of New Orleans has purchased the old Hellwege estate on the beach.

Mrs. Ed. Schwartz and nephew, Colon Levy motored to Pensacola, Fla., and on the way home stopped at Mobile to visit Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Jones.

Mrs. D. Fisher and Mrs. A. Curry were guests of Miss Justine Englert in Terrace.

D. Zengel and family are over for the summer, and will occupy the Danseraue cottage.

Mrs. Frank Dufour and daughter, Helen were week-end guests of Mrs. Jno. Morrere. Mrs. Dufour contemplates making Waveland her permanent home.

Mr. and Mrs. John Morrere, Sr., motored from Mandeville, to return their grandchildren Nola Rita and Marcel Morrere, who were spending some time at that place. The children had a grand time.

Miss L. Surton of New Orleans will spend some time visiting her friend, Mrs. Theo Soniat, Sr.

The Misses Geraldine and Jennie Schweibel of New Orleans entertained Miss Agnes Bourgeois of Waveland at a card party and dance during the latter's stay in New Orleans. Among those present besides the hostesses and the guest of honor were Miss Olga Lukinovich, Messrs. Walter Botsay, Tom O'Connor, Howard Peot, Oden Arason, Lloyd Schweibel, emily Schweibel, Mr. and Mrs. John Schweibel, Mr. and Mrs. August Schweibel and Mrs. William J. Stanton.

Among the out-of-town guests were Messrs. Thomas Atzenhoffer, Jr., George Ellis and Shelby Schweibel and Mr. and Mrs. George Schweibel all of Gulf, Texas.

While in New Orleans, Miss Bourgeois was a guest of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Funk.

TUNG OIL BUSINESS PROMISES TO BE ONE OF LEADING INDUSTRIES

Echo Correspondent Tells Where Three Million Seedlings Are Grown in South Mississippi—Chambers of Commerce Will Find It Worth While To Urge Expansion of Business.

By W. D. ROBINSON

Developments show that the tung oil business is rapidly becoming one of the largest of American industries and that it will be confined within a strip of territory about 100 miles in width and extending from the Mississippi River on the west to the vicinity of Jacksonville, Fla., on the east.

Investigation reveals that 19,100 acres of land has been planted to tung trees in South Mississippi, East Louisiana, Florida, South Georgia and South Alabama. Of this 9700 acres in tung trees are growing in South Mississippi.

Over 3,000,000 seedling trees, now growing in South Mississippi nurseries, are to be transplanted to about 20,000 acres of land next winter, bringing the total tung tree acreage in the Mississippi coastal region to approximately 30,000 acres within another year.

Many of the tung trees in South Mississippi are producing seed in considerable quantities. For the next two years the greater portion of the seed will be used in planting new tung tree groves. Within three or four years the output of seed from the groves will be of sufficient magnitude to warrant the construction of oil mills to crush the oil from the seed. That will bring new industries with pay rolls.

South Mississippi is the center of the greatest activity in growing tung trees. It is clear, from a business point of view, that the oil mills will be located where there is the most activity. Poyahne, Miss., it is certain, will get an oil mill as soon as the large tung tree groves in that section begin producing seed in commercial quantities.

Other cities in the coast area should bestir themselves, encourage the growing of tung trees and secure the location of oil mills. The Chambers of Commerce and civic organizations of Gulfport, Biloxi, Ocean Springs, Bay St. Louis, Pass Christian and Wiggins will find it worth their efforts to aid in the expansion of the tung oil business.

Experiments have demonstrated that the tung oil industry must be confined to territory within 100 miles of the Gulf of Mexico on account of climatic conditions. Blossoms on the trees are killed by frost in colder climates and they will not yield fruit in sections where there is danger of frost killing the blooms. These conditions give the coastal region a monopoly of tung oil production. The territory in the coast area where the trees will produce fruit is already known as the "Tung Oil Belt."

Some of the biggest corporations in the United States use large quantities of tung oil in their business. Among them are the General Electric Company, the Westinghouse Electric Company, the Standard Oil Company, linoleum manufacturers, paint and varnish manufacturers, waterproof cloth makers and the automobile and airplane manufacturers. A market for tung oil being assured by these big consumers, no difficulty should be encountered in financing a tung oil mill at any place where a supply of tung seed is certain to be produced. To insure the establishment of a tung oil mill, the first thing to do is to get tung tree groves planted on a commercial scale so as to assure a supply of seed for a crushing plant. That done, an oil mill certainly will follow.

Are We Waiting? Well, I Guess We Are

When a certain officer of the governor's staff died, there were some applicants for the post and some were impatiently impatient. While the dead colonel was awaiting burial one aspirant buttonholed the governor, asking:

"Would you object to my taking the place of the colonel?"

"Not at all," the governor replied tartly. "See the undertaker!"—Syracuse Post-Standard.

MISSISSIPPI POWER COMPANY*HOW TO VOTE NEXT TUESDAY

JOHN M. STONE was neither a lawyer nor a politician yet he made the best governor Mississippi ever had, a fact no man will dare dispute. He took over the reins of our State government when the carpetbaggers and scallawags had gotten Mississippi into about as bad a financial fix as it is at present, but before the end of his administration he had paid every cent of indebtedness. Never will our people forget him or cease to appreciate his work in their behalf. Just now there is need for a chief executive of his type, and every voter should go to the polls next Tuesday and cast a ballot for that one of the four aspirants for governor who most nearly possesses the honesty and high character of John M. Stone.

PAINS QUIT COMING

"When I was a girl, I suffered periodically with terrible pains in my back and sides. Often I would bend almost double with the intense pain. This would last for hours and I could get no relief."

"I tried almost everything that was recommended to me, but found nothing that would help until I began taking Cardui. My mother thought it would be good for me, so she got a bottle of Cardui and started me taking it. I soon improved. The bad spells quit coming. I was soon in normal health."

CARDUI Helps women to healthTHE ECHO'S COOKING CLASS

One of the best vegetables of the summer is corn. Its season is brief, so we wish to serve it often and in many different ways. Most of us enjoy eating corn—plain, that is, steaming hot on the cob, with butter, salt and pepper. There are many ways of introducing fresh corn into the summer meals. These same dishes may be served the year round as one can buy canned corn of excellent flavor.

Squaw Corn

Cook six slices of bacon until deliciously browned. Remove the bacon from the pan and pour off half the fat. Beat two eggs until light, add one teaspoonful salt, 2 cups of corn, 1-8 teaspoon pepper and one can of pimento chopped. Turn into bacon fat and stir constantly over a slow heat until the mixture thickens.

Stewed Corn

Cut the corn from the cob after it has been husked and silks. Place in saucepan. Add milk nearly to cover the corn, together with salt and pepper to taste. Simmer about ten minutes or until it thickens, stirring frequently. Then add butter, one tablespoon for every two cups of corn. Serve plain or arrange in a shallow serving dish which has been lined with buttered toast strips. Curly crisp slices of breakfast strip may be arranged on top.

Corn Pie

To two cups of corn use two beaten eggs, two-thirds cup of milk, 1 teaspoon salt 1-8 teaspoon black pepper and two tablespoons of butter. Mix all ingredients. Pour into baking dish and bake in hot oven for thirty or forty minutes.

Corn Fritters

To two cups of corn add salt, pepper, tablespoon melted butter, one egg and four tablespoons flour. Drop by spoonfuls in hot grease.

THIS WOMAN LOST 64 POUNDS OF FAT

Mrs. H. Price, of Woodside, L. I., writes: "A year ago I weighed 190 lbs. I started to take Kruschen and now I weigh 126 and never felt better in my life and what's more, I look more like 20 yrs. old than the mother of 2 children, one 19 and the other 18. Every one of my friends say it's marvelous the way I reduced."

To lose fat with speed take a half teaspoonful of Kruschen in a glass of hot water before breakfast every morning—don't miss a morning—an 85 cent bottle lasts 4 weeks—get it at any drug store in America. If not joyfully satisfied after the first bottle—money back.

LOST DAVIS CUP CHANCE
SHARKEY FADES
WALKER HASN'T ENOUGH
STRIKING'S HOPES
ATHLETICS WINNING
GROVE BEING RESTED
ST. LOUIS LOOKS GOOD
MATE AND TWENTY GRAND

Last week saw the Davis Cup matches get underway with the United States on the sidelines for the first time since 1919. The young British upset the dope by eliminating our contenders in the semi-finals, and played the cup-holders for the first time since 1919. The young British stars performed splendidly against Shields and Woods on the final day of the match with the U. S.

The Walker-Sharkey fight has the experts divided again, with much diversified opinion as to the winner of the "draw." The referee voted for Walker, one judge for Sharkey and one for a draw. The Associated Press scored the bout even, with seven rounds for each fighter and one tied. The United Press gave Sharkey seven and Walker only three, but added that if Sharkey was penalized for low blows several of his rounds could have been given to Walker.

Most every critic agrees that Sharkey won nothing except the $63,000 that he got for the fight. His failure to knock out an opponent when he had every physical advantage eliminates him as a championship contender. At the same time, Walker, although making a game fight, did not demonstrate near enough to classify as a contender.

Word from the South is that Stripling plans to continue his boxing, with hopes of working up to another title clash in the future. He is undoubtedly qualified, and why he should fail is what puzzles many writers. The idea is general that he was overtrained for the Cleveland fracas, but this doesn't mean that he is to be considered for another chance unless he shows something in the future. The boy has been trained for years to prevent himself from being hurt and some observers think this mental hazard, once he has been punished, causes him to "play safe" rather than to get into the mix-up with more determination than ever.

It begins to look like it is all over in the American League, where the Athletics have spurred ahead of the field after being seriously challenged by the Washington Senators. In fact, so well fortified is the Mack pitching staff that Groves is being used about once a week, while the other twirlers

ARE YOU A "PARTY HUSBAND" IS THE QUESTION ASKED

Dorothy McNeill's New Picture Will Get You, Too, If You're An Old-Fashioned Husband.

If you are one of those 'up-to-the-minute' newlyweds who believe that you can play around with all the old gang—and your wife believes honestly that she can do the same—see "Party Husband" the First National picture starring Dorothy McNeill, which comes to the A. & G. Theatre, Sunday and Monday. It is not a preachment, but a cross-section of modern life, so human, so tender, so logical, that it gets you in spite of yourself. If you are an old-fashioned husband it will get you, too—or an old-fashioned wife.

Dorothy McNeill, who is appearing as the star of "Party Husband," the First National comedy-drama of modern marriage, reached the full measure of her success only after the advent of talking pictures. Remembered gratefully for her dazzling recent performance in "The Office Wife," she now presents an even more captivating character as a business bride, who believes with her young husband, that marriage should not incur the loss of individuality. James Rennie plays the husband. Clarence Badger directed.

hang up consecutive victories. The big lefthander is getting a mid-season rest, we imagine, that will leave him in top form to stave off any delayed threat in the last days.

The acquisition of Hoyt, via the waiver route, helped the A's, because the dentist managed to win his first four games. Besides Walberg is going 'good,' and MacDonald and Mahaffey give indication of being ready to take their place in the box with dependability. Earnshaw, the astonishing right-hander, continues to work in relief as well as in turn and has been performing at top speed.

The sneaky suspicion also forms in our minds that the Cardinals have about sewed up the National League bunting. Not that something might not happen, with the Dodgers, Giants and Cubs hanging behind, but St. Louis shows the way and has a habit of swatting her rivals when they come to grips.

Twenty Grand, a really great horse, finished third in the Arlington classic at Chicago, in one of the most sensational upsets that racing has seen in years. Mate, Bostwick's three-year-old, was the winner, thus demonstrating that he is master of the field. Twice this season he has taken the measure of Twenty Grand, losing to the Payne-Whitney entry only once.
